WORK UNPLUGGED

Shifts in consumer experience have led to shifts in workplace expectations. Outside work, people are constantly immersed in consumer experiences designed to be simple, personalized and engaging. When at work, they don't forget how they were treated as consumers.

Employees now expect a modern experience, mirroring the one they get as empowered consumers. They want to be treated as individuals, yet able to seamlessly interact and collaborate with their peers. Office applications now need to be fast, simple and socially enabled while being available anytime, anywhere, on multiple devices.

Adrenalin has understood this 'shift in consumer experience' and has developed a mobile app that helps workforce to transact or collaborate with ease, stay connected to business from anywhere and everywhere and on any device.

ADRENALIN HCM ON MOBILE

Employees are accustomed to using Adrenalin through their desktops/laptops. But what happens when an employee is out on a business trip? How would he take action then? This is where Adrenalin HCM on Mobile comes into play.

Adrenalin HCM profoundly changes the way employees communicate, consume information and conduct business and get their work done. Its intuitive and integrated approach empowers employees and enables them to stay connected with business. Anytime, Anywhere.
